Markets note

Global markets rebounded modestly as easing pressure in the US Treasury market supported risk appetite. The US Treasury Department said it would at least double the size of liquidity-support buyback operations for securities with maturities between 10 and 30 years, signaling a more active approach to stabilizing long-term yields after the recent surge raised concerns over market liquidity. The move helped long-dated Treasury yields pull back from multi-year highs and improved sentiment across global markets. Meanwhile, the minutes of the Fed's July meeting showed that some policymakers favored raising interest rates this year if inflationary pressures fail to ease, although the discussion took place before the latest softer employment and inflation data. Geopolitical risks also remained in focus as the US and Iran continued to show limited progress toward an agreement, keeping energy-related inflation risks on the radar.

US equity markets snapped a three-day losing streak as lower Treasury yields and stronger liquidity expectations supported broader sentiment. The Dow Jones and S&P 500 gained 0.22% and 0.21%, respectively, while the Nasdaq Composite rose 0.16%. Retail stocks were mostly supported after earnings from TJX, Target and Lowe's, while investors turned their attention to Walmart's results and weekly jobless claims for additional signals on consumer demand and labor market conditions. The pharmaceutical sector also outperformed, led by sharp gains in Merck and Moderna following positive vaccine trial results. On the other hand, selected technology and chip stocks remained under pressure, with AMD and Intel declining as investors continued to reassess the outlook for AI-related spending and heavy corporate debt issuance in the sector.

Borsa İstanbul posted a strong rebound, with the BIST 100 Index rising 2.34% to close at 14,459, while total trading volume reached TRY199.1bn. Among sector indices, mining was the best performer with a 4.45% gain, while information technology was the weakest sector, falling 4.42%. Domestically, investors will monitor Turkey's external debt statistics, international investment position and CBRT's weekly money and banking data today. Yesterday marked the final day for consolidated financial results, bringing the 2Q26 earnings calendar close to completion. Within our research coverage, we monitored ALARK TI, ALKIM TI, DOAS TI, ALFAS TI and YATAS TI financials. Following the heavy earnings flow, company-specific results, margin trends and management guidance are expected to remain important for short-term pricing, while the stronger BIST performance suggests that domestic investors are also responding positively to the improvement in global risk appetite and the easing in US long-term yields.

Equities

ALARK : Review of financial results / positive

Alarko Holding booked TRY4,195 mn net income (Consensus: TRY64 mn net loss / Deniz Invest: TRY203 mn net loss) in 2Q26. Thanks to inflation accounting, there was a positive impact of TRY1,148 million under the monetary gain/loss item in 2Q26 financials.

- Positive balance sheet details

- ✓ Ongoing strong revenue growth in the agriculture segment, net income—contrary to expectations of a net loss—driven by a one-off income, and an increase in solo net cash position.

- Negative balance sheet details

- ✗ Continued weak profitability in the agriculture segment.

- Our brief assessment of the balance sheet

- In 2Q26 financials, while solo net cash position rose QoQ, net income was recorded contrary to the consensus. Therefore, we believe that the financial results will have a positive impact on share performance.

Overview: Currently, our 12-month target price for Alarko Holding is TRY 141.82 and our recommendation is BUY. However, we will review and revise our forecasts and NAV table in a more detailed report. Based on our 2026 estimates, ALARK stock trades at 0.5x P/B. The stock underperformed BIST

DOAS: Review of financial results / slightly negative

Doğuş Otomotiv reported revenues of TRY 60,042 million (Consensus: TRY 57,737 million / Deniz Yatırım: TRY 59,118 million), EBITDA of TRY 3,252 million (Consensus: TRY 3,596 million / Deniz Yatırım: TRY 3,689 million), and net profit of TRY 1,742 million in Q2 2026 (Consensus: TRY 1,428 million net profit / Deniz Yatırım: TRY 1,522 million net profit). The Q2 2026 financials showed a positive impact of TRY 1,276 million under the monetary gain/loss item.

- Positive balance sheet details

- ✓ Net profit slightly above expectations, resulting in a slight upward revision in sales volume.

- Negative balance sheet details

- ✗ Increasing net debt position and declining EBITDA.

- Our brief assessment of the balance sheet

- When we evaluate the announced results, we are experiencing a decline in both volume and efficiency operationally. Furthermore, the net debt/EBITDA ratio has risen to 2.2x. On the other hand, investor interest may be seen as a result of the higher-than-expected net profit and the suppression of the share price compared to the last 5 trading days. Our final view is slightly negative.

- Overview: Our 2026 sales revenue forecast is TRY 236,516 million, our EBITDA expectation is TRY 14,490 million, and our net profit expectation is TRY 5,438 million. Due to the addition of the increased country risk premium to our model and changes in our macroeconomic expectations, we are updating our 12-month target price for Doğuş Otomotiv from TRY 279.30 to TRY 255.00, while maintaining our HOLD recommendation. Based on the last 12 months of data, the stock is currently trading at 15.2x P/E and 4.7x EV/EBITDA multiples. The stock has underperformed the BIST 100 index by 18% since the beginning of the year.

Deniz Yatırım analysts calculate 12-monthly target values (prices) and their associated potential return by using one or more valuation method for each stock. Our 12-monthly rating system includes 3 different general investment recommendations which are BUY, HOLD and SELL.

BUY: This refers to a valuation where a stock is expected to yield a total potential return of minimum 20% and above in the next 12 months.

HOLD: This refers to a valuation where a stock is expected to yield a total potential return between 0-20% in the next 12 months.

SELL: This refers to a valuation where a stock is expected to yield a total potential return lower than 0% in the next 12 months.

Deniz Yatırım analysts evaluate stocks in light of potential catalysts, triggering developments, and risks, as well as market, sector, and competitor developments. After publicly disclosing general investment recommendations, our analysts closely monitor stocks. However, if stock price fluctuations cause values to exceed the limits of our rating system, our analysts may choose not to change their recommendation regarding the stock and/or place it Under Review (UR). There is absolutely no time constraint for our analysts in terms of rating and/or recommendation updates in the event of a potential UR. From a valuation perspective, if there is mathematical potential for an increase or risk of decline, our analysts may make recommendations outside the BUY-HOLD-SELL framework. They consider the general trend and recent developments in the sector and company beyond potential return levels that form the basis of the rating. In such cases, the evaluation may consider various factors, such as general sector conditions, potential risk and return, parameters in the latest financial statements, and political and geopolitical factors. Our analysts do not use a mechanical process that only considers mathematical values when making BUY-HOLD-SELL recommendations.
